Tom Ochiltree Shoots His Little Gan-Garrison to be Seated To-Day-McClure and His Mission.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, March 19,-The weather prevented a full gathering to-day, but representatives on both sides were promptly in their seats, because they knew that the Herr-Lasker matter was to be disposed of. After the report had been made, Mr. Cox, of New York, moved to lay it and the committee's resolutions on the table. The vote against this was most decided, and showed that, while members can differ on the tartf and other domestic questions, they unite promptly when a subject is up involving the interest and the good name of the entire American people. The chairman of Foreign Affairs, Governor Curtin. of Penn-ylvania, had charge of the com-ests of the United States against those mittee's report and recommendations, and Governments which have excluded or rehis bearing was in the highest degree strained the importation of American meats, reported the original bill providing statesmanlike. His corpulency was slightly reduced by a ng double-breasted frock coat, and his red hangs had been given a poetic curl, Mr. Belford, of Colorado, who also has hair like William Rufus, stood by him ready to be god-father to his effort. Colorado statemen seemed suffering, however, from an inactive liver, and threw his eyes to the ceiling of the hall with a faroff, dreamy look as Mr. Ochiliree com-menced reading his manuscript. When, with detant emphasis, the Texas statesman spoke of Bismarck as "the alcohol of egotism," Mr. Belford looked around as if to impress on members that protégé was an oratorical brick. The speaker disappointed those who supposed the effort would furnish nothing but amusement, for it was ahead of the obituary rhetoric of the average congressman. Mr. William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey, a member of the committee, explained its action very sensibly. He has millions of dollars, and is blessed with a good share of ability and scholarship. By cable to the Dispatch. LONDON, March 19 .- The Tribal rising in Egypt is universal from Kassala to Berber. The Arabs between Korosko and Assonan are also threatening to revolt. liman, with a section of Haddendowas, who fought at El Teb, will reoccupy Baker Pacha's fort, near Trinkitat. Osman Digna's force around Tamanieb has in-creased by 3,500. Only two sheiks have gone to Suakim, and their tribes are small, numbering less than 15,000 combatants. Their adhesion is very deceptive. The men and horses under Colonel Stewart, now entrenched at Hadonab, are suffering from intense heat and brackish water. It will be impossible for them long to maintain that position. General Graham has asked for an increase of cavalry and a better commissariat. He urges an early decision either to order an advance of the reinforced army against Sinkat or to withdraw all to Suakim. Three great tribes—the Haggas, Bisharees, and Batakheers—have risen, and occupy the Nile from Duem to Shendy. It is rumored at Dongola that the garrisons under Lupton Bey, in the pro-vince of Baber Gazelle, have surrendered and been massacred.

Stocks were quiet and strong to-day, but the changes in prices were unimportant. Operators had no desire of entering into new contracts until something acfinite was known regarding the outcome of the feliberations of the railroad managers at Chicago. The market opened very firm and then weakened, prices running off ightly. Before the first cell a stronger tone prevailed, and under the leadership of low-priced shares a general advance was established. The market continued strong throughout the afternoon. In the final dealings, however, some of the active shares reacted, and the market closed slightly lower. After business hours it was reported that the railroad managers at Chicago had arrangedall difficulties. It was also reported during the day that Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Union Pacific had appointed a committee to settle their trouble. Compared with last night's closing prices are 160% higher for Northwesi, St. Paul, Rock Usland, Delaware and Hadson. Denver, Louisville and Nashville, Lake shore, Michigan Central, Missouri Pacific, Ransas and Texas, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Reading, Manitoba, Texas Pacific, and Wabhash; 160% lower for Central Pacific Lackawanna, Oregon Transcontinental, Pacific Mail, and Western Union.
